

about being fair to the individual who's being stopped, I think it's about being fair to the police officers and law enforcement officers who are attempting to do their job. And one part of that job is about identifying individuals. And if they ask for further information to be able to identify, and that further information that they ask for includes a Social Security number, in those cases, as with this young woman, whose birth date and name were exactly the same as someone in Kansas who did not have a particularly good record, then they have become the lawbreakers instead of the law enforcers. And I just think that we have to be very careful about what we do that hamstring law enforcement's ability to do the job that we have hired them to do, to do the job that we think needs to be done. And we have copies of letters from law enforcement officials in the city of Omaha and the Police Chiefs Association, so we know that other people, other law enforcement people think that this is an important thing for us to continue to have as an option for police officers and not to have law enforcement officials become lawbreakers by virtue of trying to do their job.

SPEAKER WITHEM: One minute left on the bill.

SENATOR BROWN: Thank you, Mr. President.

SPEAKER WITHEM: Senator Pirsch.

SENATOR PIRSCH: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. And I think, did you mean one more minute on the bill or one more minute for Senator Brown?

SPEAKER WITHEM: When I said one minute on the bill that's what I meant.

SENATOR PIRSCH: And Senator Brown still had time, right?

SPEAKER WITHEM: Senator Pirsch, that's up to Senator Brown. If she needed more time, she could have certainly used it.

SENATOR PIRSCH: Okay, well, I'll give Senator Brown the first part of my time then. Do you want to finish that? Okay. Anyway, we have come to the point that...on General File I raised some questions, and actually, we had a letter that would have three signatures that would take this bill completely off...
